

THE HERALD.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 1, 1874.

Published by J. B. BARKER, Editor.

Price, 5 CENTS.

Blaine has given Hayes to the Democrats.

Gold is going up in New York.

President Hayes has declined to remain in his Southern and civil service positions.

Zona F. Young, of the Indianapolis Times, is becoming quite popular.

Stanley has again been heard from.

The New York Herald recently published a letter from him dated at Nyangwe Manyema, Central Africa, Nov. 1, 1873.

The Murphy temperance meetings in Louisville are still very interesting and lively attended.

The Examiner says Mrs. Andrew McLean, living near Owensboro, while giving medicine to a sick person, had her clothes catch fire and her flesh literally roasted.

Still, Northern, State Senator Nash, of South Carolina, has resigned and "fessed" up to the investigating committee and implicated several others in the Legislative frauds of that State.

The Babcock and Shepherd rings from 1871 to 1874, swindled the Government in the matter of public works, to the tune of $3,500,000, which was all right with Grant, who shielded Babcock to the last.

Glass, Ware & Co., is the style of a firm in Hopkinsville, who do a starving dry goods trade.

The Mormons, by a mass-meeting, vested their Presidency in the twelve apostles, who chose John Taylor as President of the quorum of Twelve.

There are one hundred more colored prisoners than white ones in the State Penitentiary, and yet there are more than twice as many whites as blacks in the State.

Henry Ward Beecher got ten votes in the Democratic caucus last Saturday night for the position of Chaplain of the Lower House of Congress.

The Murphy movement has broken out at the State capital. It ought to have waited until the Legislature met and had the excitement red-hot during the sitting, and then probably our law-makers would have spent less time at wine suppers and devoted more time to business.

Hon. Edward Pierpont, United States Minister to England, has resigned, and the prospects are good for Hon. B. H. Bristow to be his successor.

Cal. Polk, of Missouri, was nominated for Door-keeper on the 3d ballot.

J. M. Stewart, of Virginia, was nominated for re-election as post master on the first ballot.

The Rev. Dr. Poisel, of the Southern Methodist Church, was nominated for Chaplain.

The time when the bare mention of a Southern Methodist in Congress would have raised a loyal howl from all the saintly Puritans of New England, but thanks for a better day.

These nominations are equivalent to an election, as the Democrats have a majority of about thirteen, and are united.

The servants of the people have made a good beginning and we may expect a good session.

Later.—The nominees have all been elected by majorities of about fifteen.

Grass County Notes.

I remembered my last, with a frank of one Dwyer, and now I must mention another of a different nature for as much as one was a buried treasure, the other is trying to unearth some out of a hill about two thousand feet above the creek bottom.

Mr. Abraham Deween, an aged and highly respected citizen living on the head waters of Caney Creek, but a most eccentric individual withal, has taken it into his head that gold is buried in the hill which he gives for this belief that about sixty years ago, several images representing the human form and worked out of hard white sandstone, stood on the west side of this hill with the faces turned toward the setting sun, but at the instigation of an itinerant Methodist preacher who denounced the images as idols of idolatry; a party of boys attacked them one Sunday and they were completely demolished.

These images, Mr. Deween thinks were placed there as a sacrifice to the person, or to do any felonious act, they or other shall, on conviction thereof, be confined in the penitentiary for not less than six nor more than twelve months, or in the discretion of the jury.

Now, if these parties handed together and intimidated these miners, as we understood was the case, we could not do otherwise as a public journalist than denounce it, and call the attention of the Grand Jury to it.

Our readers interested would I do well to read pages 365, 366 and 367, General Statutes of Kentucky, and then they will see the several penalties the law inflicts on those who intimidate or stick up notices forbidding others to work, or seal threatening letters, also as to the injury resulting to property thereby.

If the law is wrong, we are not responsible, but while it is the law, it ought to be enforced at all hazards, and if we were properly informed, the parties referred to were liable to the penalties and ought to be punished; if, however, as the communists state, they did no overt act, they were wrongfully charged, and we gladly give them the place to correct it.

Bankrupts.

David T. Boston, of Beach Grove, McLean county.

John W. Cobb, of Elm Wood, Webster county.

John H. Clements, of Knottsville, Davies county.

C. J. Smith, of Fordville, Ohio county.

Sol. Villner, of Hopkins county, each filed their petition in bankruptcy last Saturday.

Hartford for Ohio.

The election in Ohio last Tuesday resulted in an overwhelming defeat to the Republicans. It being Hayes' own State a great effort was made by the Republicans to carry it, but all in vain.

R. M. Bishop, who by the way, is a native of Kentucky, was elected Governor by 23,000 majority, and the Legislature is Democratic on joint ballot by about forty majority, and this is another United States Senator secured by the Democrats.

Kentucky will have to look out for Ohio will win the laurels in large Democratic majorities. Pennsylvania will follow suit next month, and one by one the States will pronounce against the fraud by which the people were deprived of the chief magistrate selected by them, and another placed in his stead.

Congressional Convention.

The Democratic caucus, last Saturday night, to make nominations for Congressional officers was quite a harmonious meeting and acted very sensibly.

Hon. Samuel J. Randall, of Pennsylvania, was nominated for re-election as Speaker on the first ballot, receiving 109 out of 141 votes.

The gallant George M. Adams, of Kentucky was nominated for re-election as Clerk on the first ballot.

Hon. John G. Thompson, of Ohio, was nominated for re-election as Sergeant-at-Arms by acclamation.

Cal. Polk, of Missouri, was nominated for Door-keeper on the 3d ballot.

J. M. Stewart, of Virginia, was nominated for re-election as post master on the first ballot.

Assignee's Sale in Bankruptcy

An assignee of W. W. Austin, bankrupt, I will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder on Monday, the 12th day of November, 1874, the 12th day of the Ohio Circuit Court, at the front door of the court house, in Hartford, Kentucky, the following property, surrendered as assets by said bankrupt:

First, The brick store house situated on Market street, in Hartford, Kentucky, the same now occupied by E. T. Williams, sold subject to a mortgage on said house and lot in favor of Washington Phillips.

Second, The lot of ground bought by said bankrupt of Caleb Crow, on which is the stable formerly connected with the Crow House, with all the fixtures attached.

The sale will be on a credit of six months. Bond with good security will be required of the purchaser, bearing interest from date. A plan will be retained on the property as additional security.

A. B. BAIRD, 41-31 Assignee of W. W. Austin, Bankrupt.

LINES TO BETTLE.

Oh, "Bettie," does your wife keep a Bible lying by?

If she does, just turn the leaves. Let this message reach your eyes.

It's about the meta and beam—But I will not quote it here, lest you should not understand, or my meaning not be clear.

Did you ever quote a line of poetry or prose?

Did you ever reach your hand and pick a neighbor's rose?

And, as it gave an odor, that you thought almost divine, Did you ever cross it gently, And say that "this is mine."

And, "Bettie," as you must learn, With in literature and life, To help our fellow-men, And thus avoid all strife.

We must not show their faults. They're all the same, I ween, But must kindly draw the curtain—And thus the world between.

And, "Bettie," don't be proud, Though I know you are very learned, Let us have plain, simple words, Till a victory we have earned.

Let "Heaven" dream his dreams, Undisturbed by you or me, And so exult in the virtue That is known as charity.

"Morton's Favorite," or the "Little Beauty" is an excellent cigar.

A lot of large wooden boxes for sale cheap.

J. P. BARRETT.

Mrs. M. H. McIntyre left last week for Washington county, Kentucky, on a visit for a month or so to friends and relatives.

Eliza Young, the champion horse black, will be at the barbershop during the fair, ready to shine, shave and dress customers. He left his post and spent last week in recreation at Litchfield, and is now ready for biz.

If you want to laugh and grow fat, go to Ford's and ask for "Two Kisses," "That Hummel of Mine," "My Mother-in-Law," "They All Do It," and many other funny books that will tickle you to death.

Mr. B. W. Adkins, one of the conductors on the P. & E. Railroad, came to town on last Sunday on business for his company. He was quite sick when he reached here, and is still very sick. He is at the Hartford House.

Subscribers to the Temperance Advocate are putting in like pigeons to the post. We learn from the editor, Rev. T. E. Hickey, that he received fifty-six subscribers last week. He has averaged fifty subscribers a week each week since it started.

Dr. Geo. E. Stowers, as previously announced, reached here on the 10th inst. and on Sunday last returned home, and came back Monday bringing his family with him. They have taken rooms at the Hartford House, where they will remain probably a month or so.

Dr. J. F. Bugg, of Sulphur Springs, who came from Indiana about a year since, left out a few days ago, and when last heard from was at Grandview, Ind. He was indicted for practicing medicine unlawfully. He was mistaken. He is again here as a "bumming." Bye, bye, Bugg.

Mr. Malcolm McIntyre, for a long while teacher of the high school here, is now deputy collector for Ohio, McLean, Muhlenberg, Butler and Grayson counties with headquarters here. He is the right man in the right place, and understands the revenue service as well as any man in the State. He is authorized to receive subscriptions to the Hartford Herald.

Mr. J. W. Hocker & Son, of Pinhook, have recently opened up a new coal bank on the lands of our venerable citizen, H. D. Taylor, which they have leased for a term. The bank is situated on the Rochester road below Cromwell about a mile. The coal is known as No. 9 vein and is about four feet thick. It seems that our coal fields are inexhaustible. Messrs. Hocker & Son are now ready to sell coal. See their hand-bills.

Below will be found a list of the Quarterly Meetings of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, for the Owensboro district:

Zion, Nov. 17, 18; Callison, at Berea, Nov. 24, 25; Yellingsburg, at Berea, Dec. 1, 2; Owensboro, at Owensboro, Dec. 8, 9; Owensboro circuit, at Athey's, Dec. 15, 16; Cloverport, at Cloverport, Dec. 22, 23.

District Stewards' meeting at Owensboro, Thursday, Nov. 1. We desire the presence of all the District Stewards at that time and place.

SAUEL C. ALLEN, P. E.

Quarterly court has been in session since Monday, and a considerable sprinkling of litigation has been disposed of.

His Honor, W. F. Gregory is presiding.

Mr. R. H. Rose brought a lot of very fine cabbage to town one day this week, one head of which, after being divested of all but the actual white head, weighed 16 1/2 pounds. Don't guess we'll starve out this year.

Abel Bosquit, of this county, was tried before the United States circuit court at Louisville last week, charged with uttering and passing counterfeit money, and was acquitted. John McConnell, charged with the same offense, had his case continued until next term.

Why will you stint yourself to have a high tombstone erected after your death, when you can live long and happy by purchasing your clothes at Julia's Winter & Co., S. E. corner Third and Market streets, Louisville, Ky., and at a very low price.

Mr. A. H. Cummins, one of the clerical types alive, has moved his family to town and is occupying the premises of Mrs. Tracy. Alex. is now a fixture in the Herald office, and a regular signe quon son at that. We welcome his family as citizens of our town.

Mr. B. F. Gray and Millard F. Taylor left Beaver Dam last week with a lot of stock for the Louisville market. They are enterprising gentlemen, and very beneficial to this section of country, as they are ready and willing to buy all surplus stock at a small margin under Louisville prices.

The "Messenger" is the name of the new paper just started in Owensboro. Mr. James A. Munday is editor, and he "quips" like an old hand at the business. If its future issues are edited with the same ability as the initial number, it won't be long before it enjoys the reputation that the "Monitor" once did—the best paper in the Green River country.

I have just returned from Louisville and now have the largest and best selected stock of fancy and family groceries ever brought to this market, embracing a full line of prime New Orleans Sugar, 5 bags of fancy LaGuayra and Rio coffee, and a large lot of lard, lard and flour. Call and see my stock and prices before purchasing elsewhere.

E. T. WILLIAMS.

The city "blade" of Hartford have at last concluded to improve a little. They are building a nice suburban walk, from the central part of town out to the stream and water mills, and as soon as this is accomplished, they will build on several other streets, provided they can get donations like they did on this line. They are also having the pump in front of Collins' grocery repaired. We trust they will continue to improve so long and wherever needed.

Rev. J. A. Humphrey, in addition to being a very popular preacher, is a good granger, and has shown us a sample of his corn crop produced this year, consisting of the common round-ear or local corn, yellow or stock corn, four ears, a small white corn with a smooth husk like grain, and a small ear of a kind of popcorn we saw for want of a better name designate popcorn corn, as the grains stand out like popcorn quills. All of these are good specimens of their different kinds.

MARRIAGE—At the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Foreman, in Hartford, Kentucky, October 15, 1877, by Rev. W. W. Cook, Judge P. P. Morgan, L. P. Foreman and Miss E. Griffin.

While but few of the relatives and neighbors of the above named happy pair were present to witness the celebration of their nuptials, yet we are assured from the esteem in which both the contracting parties are held by a large circle of admiring friends, that the best wishes of their entire community attend them in their new and responsible relations. Judge Morgan is a respectable and respected member of the Hartford bar, whose exemplary conduct in all the walks of life, has won the good will and esteem of all with whom he has come in contact while the gentle manners, thorough mental culture and pleasing address of the bride, have made her in an eminent degree for that most valuable and attractive of all domestic ornaments, a "loving wife." The newly married couple left on the evening train for Louisville, whither they will be gone about a week, after which they will return home.

Cold Weather.

Don't shake your bones out of your body, when you can get wall paper so cheap at Ford's.

Utter Lime for Sale.

Just received and for sale by I. P. Barnard, Beaver Dam, a car load of Utter Lime, at $1.25 per barrel, largest size barrels.

Funeral Services.

Rev. G. J. Bean will preach the funeral of John Leasure's child, at White Oak school house, on the first Sunday in November, 1877.

Victory for Ohio County.

Hon. S. E. Hill, of this place, won the premium at the Owensboro fair last week in the saddle ring with his bay filly. She was sired by Wazle.

Ho, for the Fair!

Remember that J. F. Yager will have a line of stages running from his stable to the Fair Ground, leaving every half hour during the Fair. Ride with him.

Dentistry.

Dr. G. E. Stowers, a dentist well known to the citizens of Hartford and vicinity, has taken rooms at the Hartford House, where he will be pleased to meet all those wishing work done at his line.

Death.

An infant son of Charles Johnson, near Fordville, died last Saturday of inflammation of the stomach and bowels. His age was eighteen months.

Half Reduced.

Hardin Kuykendall, who is confined in jail charged with man slaughter, or accessory to it, had his bail reduced by the Judge of the Criminal court last week to $800.

Big Game.

Mr. D. L. Talbot left at our office last Monday what is known as a Sagr-tree gourd, which weighed forty pounds, and is fifty inches around the largest part of the bowl. Next.

Largest Yet.

Our Sheriff, C. W. Phillips, is not only a good peace officer but a good gardener, as is evidenced by two large sweet potatoes presented to us Monday, one of which weighed five and the other four and one-half pounds.

Still at It Yet.

Edwards & Foster are still selling the cheap and best groceries in Hartford. They have just replenished their stock and can fill any order that can be filled in a grocery store. A fine lot of cigars of all the popular brands. They are ready for the fair. You can save money by trading with them.

New Goods! New Goods!

E. Small's Trade Palace is being filled to overflowing with new new goods. They are in daily receipt of nice goods. They have just opened out a splendid assortment of ladies' cloaks, of the finest and latest styles, and the ladies are specially invited to call and examine them.

Married.

McAdams—Phillips—At the residence of Rev. E. V. Phillips, on Wednesday, October 10, 1877, by Rev. G. J. Bean, Richard G. McAdams to Miss Maggie J. Phillips.

Phillips—Warden—At the residence of Wesley M. Warden, on Thursday, October 11, 1877, by Rev. G. J. Bean, Mr. Thomas M. Phillips to Miss Sallie M. Warden.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that all persons found trespassing upon the property of the Taylor Coal Company, or hanging around with a view of enticing the employees of said company from labor, or intimidating said employees to prevent them from continuing in labor, will be prosecuted to the utmost rigors of the law.

M. STANTON, Supr. Taylor Coal Co.

Jewelry Trade.

No firm in this Western country can boast of a better reputation for fair dealing than C. P. Barnes & Bro., 221 Main street, Louisville, Kentucky. They are fast becoming the leading jewelers of the West and South. We visited their establishment one day last week, and were shown the orders received by them that morning. They aggregated hundreds of dollars in amount, and came from various points in Kentucky, Alabama, South Carolina, Missouri, Tennessee, New Mexico, North Carolina, Texas. The cash accompanied each order. Their trade reaches every State and Territory South and West, and is attributable to their fair dealing and judicious advertising.

Gift for Frankfort.

Mr. C. W. Phillips, Sheriff, accompanied by G. W. Binger, D. S., and R. B. Thompson of Elm Creek, left yesterday for Frankfort, having in charge John Hunter (col.) and J. T. Gilcock (white). The former for two years in the penitentiary for burglary, the latter one year for Grand Larceny.

It would seem much more proper according to our way, of thinking, to send Gilcock to a House of Refuge, as he is quite young and could probably be reclaimed, but confinement in the penitentiary of one of his age, will only tend to harden him in crime. Mr. Tommie Phillips accompanied his father to Frankfort, in hopes that the trip would improve his health.

Groceries for the Fair.

L. J. Lyon proclaims to the citizens of Hartford and vicinity that he has a new fresh stock of groceries, and provisions for sale cheap for cash, or will exchange for country produce at cash prices. His stock consists of canned fruits of all kinds, nuts and raisins, candies, lemons and oranges, fine nice cakes, good cider, extra assortment of coffees, sugars, syrups and teas, macaroni, salmon, lobsters, best mackerel in town, bacon, sugar-cured hams, lard, apple, ground cinnamon, &c., &c. Also coal oil, pine tar, and in fact, every thing usually kept in a grocery store. A splendid line of cigars. He has an eating saloon in the rear of the grocery, where you can get anything to eat on short notice.

These goods were purchased especially for the fair trade. Give him your custom.

F. E. KIMBLE, no 41-21 Salesman.

Criminal Court Notes.

The grand jury returned the following indictments:

John Radford and D. McMillan, each carrying concealed a deadly weapon.

W. W. Austin, assault and battery.

T. O. Hines, keeping tipping house.

Sau. Phelps, disturbing religious worship.

J. F. Bugg, unlawfully practicing medicine.

E. L. Wise, jailor, neglect of official duties.

Sau. Rafferty and Joseph Smith, each for failing to keep public road in order.

Peter May, M. L. Weeks and John Harrison, for unlawfully confederating and banding together for the purpose of intimidation.

The grand jury also reported that the jail needed repairs in the way of pipes and sewerage.

John S. Moore was tried for manslaughter, which occupied nearly the whole of last week, and resulted in a verdict from the jury of nine years in the penitentiary. The verdict was rather a surprise to a majority of those who heard the trial, many of whom predicted Moore's acquittal. His attorneys have appealed the case, and he will remain in jail here for sixty days. It is by that time the Court of Appeals have not decided the Sheriff will convey him to the penitentiary. The case was ably presented by Joe Hayscraft, Commonwealth's attorney, assisted by Mr. John Chapeze, and the prisoner was equally ably defended by Messrs. Walker and Hubbard assisted by Mr. G. C. Wedding. Several other cases of minor importance were continued and some acquitted, which we deem not necessary to enumerate.

Centertown Letter.

CENTERTOWN, KY., Oct. 15.

Editor Herald:

There are some serious accidents to chronicle this week.

HURT BY A HORSE.

Mr. Carson Rowe was badly hurt by a horse falling upon him. He was working the horse, which became frightened and entangled in the gear, and fell upon Mr. Rowe's breast, bruising him severely. There are, however, no doubts of his recovery.

ANKLE BROKEN.

Mr. George Timley, stepson of Ab. Hill, had his ankle broken last Wednesday, while scuffling in play with a companion. Dr. Sanders was called to set the broken limb, and we hear that the patient is doing well.

ANGOROUS FALL.

We hear that Mr. Timothy S. Bennett, of West Providence neighborhood, fell from the tiers of his tobacco barn one day last week badly breaking both bones of his wrist and dislocating his wrist joint. Dr. J. M. Eberly, of Central, has his case, and though no late news from Mr. Bennett it is presumed that he is getting along very well.

MALARIAL TROUBLE.

We have several cases of chills, and some other sickness. Mr. Wm. Ford, a young man of our town, has some kind of fever, and is pretty sick.

MATRIMONIAL.

But notwithstanding fevers and broken limbs, people will marry. We had, during the past week, two weddings, with only supper and breakfast between them as to time, and a few hundred yards as to distance. The first was that of Mr. R. G. McAdams to Miss Maggie Phipps, at the residence of the bride's father, Rev. E. V. Phillips, on the 10th inst.

The other was Mr. T. M. Phippe, a brother of Mr. McAdams' bride, to Miss Sallie M. Warden, daughter of John C. Warden. The wedding took place at Mr. W. M. Warden's, on the morning of the 11th. Rev. G. J. Bean performed the marriage rites for both couples. They all took a short bridal trip to Hopkins county, where they have relatives, and returned Saturday.

SPECIAL VISITS.

Speaking of weddings, we are reminded that there is an agent of the Sager Sewing Machine Company around here, occasionally, and he visits persons who already have sewing machines. Perhaps he wants to swap machines. Well, that is all right, so it's a matter of money (matrimony) visit.

A VISIT HOME.

Our friend S. B. Bishop, who is teaching at Leland Station, McLean county, paid a visit to his home Saturday, and returned Sunday. Sam is looking well, so the girls say.

BASE BALL.

Next Saturday there will be a match game here between the Equality base ball Club and the Centertown club.

OPINION OF SORGHUM.

If you want to know Mr. Jacob C. Warlen's opinion of making up sorghum molasses, just ask him.

More at some other time.
